Empowering Veterans. Strengthening the Industry.

NEMRA is proud to partner with NAED, NECA, and NEMA in an industry-wide initiative to place highly skilled veterans into fulfilling careers across the electrical channel.

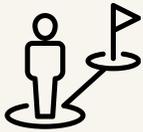

A Mission That Matter

VIPER Transitions is a veteran-led organization working to reduce suicide by tackling key issues like unemployment, underemployment, and lack of career direction. Their concierge-style process matches veterans with roles that fit their skills and location—making hiring easy for employers and meaningful for those who served.

Why This Matters

Each year, nearly 200,000 service members transition out of the military. This initiative creates a clear path for:

- Veterans to find meaningful, stable careers
- Electrical industry companies to close talent gaps with highly disciplined, technically skilled individuals

Get Involved

This is more than a workforce solution—it's a commitment to those who've served and a step toward a stronger, more sustainable industry.
